THE BUDGET DEBATE.

LONDON, May 29.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The budget debate was continued this evening. The subject of ex-clusion of diseased cattle came up again and W. H. Tong said the agriculturalists were entitled to know the policy young lady in attendance.

of the government regarding the exclusion of diseased cattle. If the govrnment insisted upon slaughter at the port of debarkation, it would do more to cheapen the supply of meat than any other measure that could be adopted.

any other measure that could be adopted.

President Gardrer of the Board of Agriculture represented the idea that the government should exclude American and Canadian cattle mainly to maintain the prices of English stock. The government only decided to exclude diseased cattle. Gardner said he could not make any definite promise as to what the government would do. It would decide according to investigation from time to time. The prohibition of steer cattle would probably not have the effect of raising the price of meat a farthing, but it might cause an increase in the price of store cattle. The policy of the government was to protect the agricultural interest against any danger of introduction of disease among other herds. If there was any danger of disease being imported while he remained in office he would put the doubts in favor. doubts in favor.

PORT EADS (Ala.,) May 2. — The steamer John Wilson, four days from Bluefields, arrived here at noon and reported everything quiet there. The United States cruisers New York and San Francisco and the English cruiser Magicienne arrived off the coast. The murderer of Wilson is still at large and noi effort is being made to capture him.

Col. Hatch, the English representative at Bluefields, still declares it is only a matter of a few days when the chief will be given back his possession. The orders to make such a move will have to come from Managua, where the British Minister is located.

Rebels Construct a Fort Near Wilbur Reported Killing of Four Union Men by a Miner-Other Exciting Incidents

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.,) May 29. Special Dispatch.) The decisive battle of the strike in this camp will occur at der command of Sheriff Bowers, who will arrive in the camp at Divide tomorrow morning, will move at an early nour in the morning to attack the The attacking force will number about 1000 men and two pieces of heavy artillery. The deputies expect resistance in their endeavor to gain a command ing position on Ironclad Mountain across Grassy Valley from Bull Hill. Should they succeed in gaining the plated position, the plan of Sheriff Bowers and Col. Veatch is to endeavor to reduce the miners' fort on Bull Hill by the shells from the tenpound Napoleon guns and then assault o carry the summit. This means that there must ensue one of the bloodies battles which has ever attended strike. The miners occupy a position or Bull Hill which was rendered almost impregnable by nature and has been doubly secured by the willing hands of miners under direction of Joseph J Johnston, an old West Point graduate The works on the summit consist of fort capable of sheltering 800 men constructed of massive logs and rocks Within the fort there is a structure partially under ground made of logs and covered with rock. Around the sides of the latter run a row of loopnoles, the most numerous of which command the approaches to the Victor mine, where the present troubles orignated. The fort is stocked with an immense supply of provisions as well tion. The water supply is short, but this the miners hope to obviate by using water from the shaft of the Victor mine. The natural advantages of the position held by the miners makes it, indeed, a formidable one, but the deputies are well drilled, armed, and determined to gain possession of the mines, and in this they have the support of the mine-owners. After six months of idleness, the latter are desperate, and in tend to gain their property, no matter what the cost. The situation in this city is a peculiar one, the place being really under siege, without the presence of armed men. The daily stages are crowded with citizens, leaving the camp until after the trouble is settled. The miners have adopted a new and novel method of defending themselves, being no less than the capturof men closely related to the mineowners, and their detention in the fort on Bull Hill, hoping thereby to discourage the deputies from shelling the fort. Barry last night, and every house in the town was searched for arms. When they departed they took George Carver, the assayer at the Anaconda mine and he is now confined on Bull Hill. A delegation visited this city at 2 o'clock today, and threaten another visit tonight. Many other acts of depredation have been committed, and the citizens of the district are down

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Deputies and Strikers Keeping at a Sale

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.,) May 29 The deputies and strikers are still keeping a safe distance from each other. Both sides are exerting every effort to increase their numbers, the strikers using, in some instances, loaded Winusing, in some instances, loaded Win-chesters as arguments. The strikers become bolder and more insolent every day. All the smaller towns are com-pletely subjected and some demon-stration has been made at Cripple Creek. There is nothing manly in the attitude of the strikers, vastly out-numbering the male portion of the population, and being heavily armed, they have confiscated nearly all the firearms owned by individuals.

Conscious alike of their own strength, and of the weakness of the inhabitants, they conduct themselves in an overbearing manner and exact conduct on the part of the inhabitants that is little short of abject servitude. Today a party entered Mound City and at the point of Winchesters forced two union men, who believe in the union, but do not believe in carrying arms and using them in violation of the law, together with a non-union man, to go to Bull Hill.

The general impression here is that this question can be settled only by a terrible conflict, and the people anxiously await the end, whatever it may be. To the credit of the strikers, it can be said that in some of the camps they have closed every saloon and placed guards over them.

The strikers now expect to be attacked from three different points and have massed their forces at Buil Hill.
Two principal approaches have been undermined and large quantities of dynamite placed so that by means of electricity, the mines can be exploded from the fort.

A. D. Gertner, a prominent Populist, was driven out of camp today and ordered not to return on penalty of death.

A STARTLING REPORT.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 29.—A report attempted to disarm a miner, when he shot and killed four of them. THE GOVERNOR WILL INVESTIGATE

DENVER, May 29.—Gov. Waite has decided to go to Cripple Creek tonight decided to go to Cripple Creek tonight to investigate the situation. All hope of arbitration is at an end. Sheriff Bowers was here today but did not see the Governor. He said he would enforce the laws at Cripple Creek and put the mine-owners in possession of their poperty. More deputies are being mustered here and gatling guns have been ordered from Chicago.

Later.—Almost at the last moment Gov. Walte decided not to go to Cripple Creek until tomorrow morning. It is expected he is afraid the deputies will kidnap him.

The immediate result of the trouble with the coal-miners at Rouse is that they quitted work and joined the body of strikers and the party, 200 strong, moved out of the district.

A FORT AND CANNON.

A FORT AND CANNON. DIVIDE (Colo.,) May 29.—It has rained nearly all day, and this, in adrained nearly all day, and this, in addition to disappointment felt at the small number of recruits, has had a depressing effect, and about a dozen have returned to Denver. The strikers are reported to have purchased a rified cannon, which is now on the way here. They have constructed another fort in the canyon just below Wilbur.

CHANGED THEIR MINDS. LEAVENWORTH, May 29.—Four hundred and twenty-five miners, employed at the Home and Kansas and Texas works, guit work today. Yesterday afternoon they voted to continue work. Agitators stopped them on the way to the mines today, and the aban-doment of work was the result. PREPARING TO INVADE.

Sheriff Turner, stationed at the Kansas and Taxas mine, No. 46, is here after the Sheriff. He reported that the Randolph delegation of striking miners now camped near No. 46 is preparing to invade the company's works and force the miners to abandon them. Four hundred men are in the

Partial Report of the Investigating Commi ator Hill Gets in the Road-The State Bank Tax Under

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Senator Gray, chairman of the Senate committee to Sugar Trust in connection with the tariff legislation, today submitted a partial report of the proceedings of that committee bearing upon the refusal of the newspaper correspondents Edwards, Schriver and Walker to an-Itusal of the newspaper correspondents, Edwards, Schriver and Walker to answer questions propounded by members of the committee. The report, after reciting the resolution by which the committee was authorized to sit, states that E. J. Edwards, whose "Holland" letter was one of the inciting causes of this investigation, has refused to reply to questions of the committee. The chairman read to him that portion of his letter in which he stated that Secretary Carlisle had secretly visited the Democratic members of the Finance Committee and had demanded that the sugar interests be taken care of because the Democratic party was under obligations to the sugar interests.

When the part of this paragraph was reached, in which Edwards had said that what Mr. Carlisle had said, was quoted from "remembrance," Senator Gray, chairman of the committee, said: "You say from remembrance. Is it yours?" to which Edwards redired.

You say from remembrance. Is it ours?" to which Edwards replied. 'Partly mine and partly my inform

The chairman. Who was your informant?

Edwards. That I suppose I will have to decline to answer. I do it with the utmost respect to the committee and the Senate. The information was given to me funder obligations of the highest confidence by the one whom I obtained the information from, so that I do not feel at liberty to reveal his name.

After the above-detailed proceedings were had the witness requested time in which to consult counsel, which request was granted. The following day, May 25, Edwards reappeared before the committee, accompanied by his counsel when the committee, through their chairman, propounded to the witness the following question:

"Now, Mr. Edwards, when you left the room yesterday it was for the purpose of consulting your counsel and making up your mind, after having consulted him, whether you would answer the question that was propounded to you by the committee, which question was, who gave you the information upon which you made the statement that the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Carlisle, made a secret visit to the Democratic members of the Finance Committee some time in February and while there made the certain appeal to them? The question is now rewhile there made the certain appeal to them? The question is now re-peated."

whereupon the witness by his counsel filed his objections to answering the questions, which have heretofore been given to the public. The several objections were overruled. The report then gives the various questions asked of Mr. Edwards and which he declined to answer. They include the question about Secretary Carlisle, also as to the informant regarding the meeting of about Secretary Carlisle, also as to the informant regarding the meeting of Senators in a Washington hotel with representatives of the Sugar Trust; also the statement that the sugar schedule was in the hands of Moore & Schley, brokers, before being reported to the Senate, and also as to the statement that the Sunday before the tariff bill was reported there had been a delegation of the Sugar Trust representatives at the Capitol who dictated the sugar schedule. To each of these questions Edwards said the same person gave him the information and declined to give his name.

The report next cites the examination of John S. Schriver, another Washington correspondent, who, on being shown a copy of a dispa ch to his paper of the 19th inst. relating to the particulars of an alleged conference in the night while the tariff bill was in committee at the Arlington, between certain Senators and members of the Sugar Trust, which had been overheard by a wire manufacturer occupying an adjoining room, admitted having sent the dispatch to the paper, but refused to give the name of his informant or the manufacturer.

The committee dwelt upon a paragraph from reading as follows: "Theres are a number of Senators that will be glad if this investigation should fail, graph from reading as follows: "There are a number of Senators that will be glad if this investigation should fail, simply because then they could charge the correspondents with circulating soundalous reports, and have another chance to denounce the press upon the floot. But if the newspaper men are given a chance to tell all they know, some interesting developments will be made."

Schriver would not

some interesting developments will be made."

Schriver would not say more, however, in response to the committee's questions, urging that he had received his information in confidence. After these proceedings Schriver requested time, in which to consult counsel. The next day he reappeared before the committee and announced that he had consulted a lawyer and adhered to his decision not to reveal the name of his informant. The recommendation of the committee is as follows:

lows:
"In the opinion of the committee each "In the opinion of the committee each question put to each of said witnesses was a proper question and pertinent to the question under inquiry before the committee, and was necessary to make the examination ordered by said resolution of the Senate, and ought to be dealt with for his misconduct, and that of each of said witnesses, by his various refusals to answer the questions as herein set forth, have violated the provisions in the act of Congress of such cases made and provided, being chapter 7 of the Revised Statutes of the United States."

Here the report cites this chi law, which provides that a witness who refuses to answer questions put by a committee shall be considered guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $1000 nor less than $100, and by improsoment in a common jail for nor more than one year nor less than one month.

The law expressly provides that no witness shall be excused from testifying on the ground that such testimony would disgrace him, and directs that in such cases the president of the Senate and the Speaker of the House shall certify the facts to the District of Columbia. The report closes as follows:

"Wherefore, the committee request that the President of the Senate certify as to each witness' failure to testify and his aforesaid refusals to answer, and all the facts herein, under the seal of the Senate of the United States District Attorney of the District of Columbia, to the end that each of the witnesses may be proceeded against in manner and form provided by law."

Senator Gray has prepared and submitted to the Vice-President a warrant directing the District-Attorney to proceed against the witnesses, Edwards and Schriever, under the act of 1885. This warrant certified the facts set forth in the report, and is signed by the Vice-President. Senator Gray had a consultation with the Vice-President when the written document was first presented to him, and explained that it was to be issued when the Senate authorized it.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report of the Investigation Committee in the Senate, discussion was renewed as to whether or not it was a privileged one. Senate Ville.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report of the Investigation Committee in the Senate, discussion was renewed as to whether or not it was a privileged one. Senator Hill said the matter of speculation in sugar stock would not involve any enhancement of property.

matter of speculation in sugar stock would not involve any enhancement of property.

Senator Lodge said this was a question of general parliamentary law. The report of the contumacy of a witness was a question of highest privilege. The only thing before the Senate was for the chair to decide whether the matter was privileged. Vice-President Stevenson ruled that it was a privileged report. The effect of the decision would be to shut off debate on the report.

Senator Hill appealed from the decision of the chair, and made a vigorous speech against the decision.

In the report of Edwards's testimony, which is not quoted specifically by the committee, but which has been printed by the committee, the part of his letter referring to the President's alleged interest in the Hawaiian question and sugar interests is given. Referring to this matter, Edwards san that, In September of last year, he met a "Gentleman, who spoke to me about an article I had written concerning an operation on Mr. Cleveland's jaw for cancer, or a malignant growth, which operation had taken place somewhere on Benedict's yacht. This gentleman said to me: 'As important as the news is, there is something much more important to this country than the fatal disease is now becoming.'

"I asked him if it was something that he could give me. He said not then, as he was under confidence. Later when I had the information that an attempt had been made to restore the Queen of Hawaii and that it had failed, the gentleman stated that was the news which he had spoken of. My recoflection is that he either told me it was on Mr. Benedict's yacht at some resort, or on a pleasure excursion of some kind. Mr. Havemeyer, Mr. Benedict, Mr. Cleveland and some others were present. They had a general conversation about the Hawaiian Island sugar interests and I think Mr. Havemeyer—at all events it was said by someone that there would be a sensation in the country before Con-

He had been speaker at the Connecticut Legislature.
Edwards said he had not talked with Col. Hoyt since, but had written him a letter and that the colonel is now dead. Edwards said Col. Hoyt did not tell him where he got the infermation, but his impression was that he had gotten it from one of the party.
Edwards admitted that some of the conclusions were his own and mere onclusions were his own and mere onjectures. Edwards also stated that it was a matter of common report that Stephen B. Elkins was interested in the Sugar Trust and that he and Senator Gor-man, being related by marriage, had very great business interests in com-mon. Also that it was common report that Senator Brice was closely related that Senator Brice was closely related to H. L. Terrell of the Sugar Trust. Edwards could not recollect from whom he had received the information that $500,000 had been contributed to the campaign fund by persons connected with the trust. He had heard that Cord Meyer, Jr., said at the Manhattan Club that the trust owned the Senate and that Meyer was a frequent visitor of Secretary Lamont. It was common report, Edwards said, that Senator Mc-Pherson had declared in the presence of the Finance Committee the Democratic report, Edwards said, that Senator McPherson had declared in the presence of the Finance Committee the Democratic party was preparing to stab the men who had saved it.

Other testimony presented with the report besides that of the newspaper correspondents, was that of R. A. Caffery, Bourke Cockran and ex-Representative Benjamin le Fevre. Senator Caffery denied that he had any conference with Havemeyer or with any of the others of the turst, and that when he wrote the sugar schedule Havemeyer was looking over his shoulder. Mr. Caffery said he had met Mr. Havemeyer one day going out of the Capitol and was introduced to him and had one conference with him which was held two or three weeks before the Finance Committee reported the specific sugar schedule. That conference was held at Senator Brice's house.

"I was asked," said he, "to see Mr.
Havemeyer. He commenced an argument in favor of the ad valorem rate on sugar in preference to the specific rate, and a number of figures were presented to show, or attempt to show, the correctness of his argument."

did not meet any of the gentlemen but himself.

Ex-Representative Le Fevre denied the statement in Edwards's letter concerning the Sunday meeting at the Capitol. He said he had not been in the employ of the Sugar Trust and had not been at the Capitol with any of its members.

During the course of his testimony Walker stated that he had mentioned JoeRickey as a go-between between Senator Vest and the Sugar Trust "I have seen," he said, "Joe Rickey with Mr. Vest, and in a little while go with Mr. Vest, and in a little while go with Mr. Vest, and in a little while go with Mr. Vest, and in a little while go with Mr. Reed of Mr. Terrell and get a quiet spot and talk."

He had, however, only once seen Rickey with Senator Vest, and on that occasion he had seen him within an hour in conversation with Terrell. He had also seen Rickey around the Finance Committee members.

Bourke Cockran said Walker had usked him upon one occasion whether he was the attorney for the Sugar Trust, and he told him he had never been the attorney for that organization, but he had declined to represent the trust in the courts in New York in 1886 or 1887. He also denied having told Walker that he favored a duty on sugar. The Senate committee continued its inquiry today, and examined Senators Yoorhees, Jones and Vest, of the Finance Committee. They made a general denial of all the charges made of the exercise of influence by the Sugar Trust, and specifically contradicted the story that Secretary Carlisle had made a secret visit to the committee and demanded that the sugar interest be protected, because of the Democratic party's indebtedness to the Sugar Trust. They agreed that Mr. Carlisle had neither made such a visit to the committee, and that no such demand had been made upon the committee, for the reasons given in 'Edwards's letter, or on any other account.

They also denied the report that a meeting had been held by the committee on the Sunday before the tariff bill was reported for the consideration of the sugar schedule, and said that, if the sugar people had been together in any adjacent room while the committee was in session at any time, they were not cognizant of the fact. Senator Vest denied that he had informed Joe Rickey of the progress of the committee in considering the sugar schedule.

The committee adjourned over until Thursday. The examination of members of the Finance Committee will be resumed at the next meeting.

FIFTY-TH IRD CONGRESS. REGULAR SESSION.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—SENATE. The question of the right of newspaper correspondents to refuse to give Senator Gray's Bribery and Sugar Investigating Committee the sources of their infor-mation was brought before the Senate today in a report from the committee concerning the refusal of Correspondents Edwards and Schriver to answer

Senator Pettigrew followed in opposition to the bill. He said he had a tion to the bill. He said he had a feeling of contempt for the Eastern Senators, who were trying to deceive the people now by professing friendliness for silver. In his opinion the Western Senators, who advocated free coinage of silver and protection, were right coinage of silver and protection, were right.

Senator Gray, at the close of a speech by Senator Pettigrew, presented a report from the committee delegated to investigate the charges of impropriety in framing the sugar schedule. Senator Hill objected, but Senator Gray said it was privileged and the Senate agreed, and the report was read.

The committee in reciting the testimony of Edwards and Schriver and the question they refused to answer, says the three witnesses are in contempt of the Senate and ought to be dealt with under the law providing for a fine of from $100 to $1000 and imprisonment from one month to one year. Senator Gray submitted to the Vice-President a warrant directing the District Attorney to proceed against the witnesses. The discussion was renewed as to whether the report was privileged, Senator Hill claiming it was not. The Vice-President, however, ruled that it was. Senator Hill appealed and made a vigorous speech.

Vice-President, however, ruled that it was. Senator Hill appealed and made a vigorous speech.

Senator Hill argued that the Senate could not lose jurisdiction simply because a committee made a report; that it still had a right to recommit the report, and if recommitted in law, it was as if the report never had been made. Senator Hill said he had no personal interest in the investigation. He thought it proper enough to investigate the charges of attempted bribery, but he doubted the wisdom and propriety of this proceeding. Whether newspaper men always told the truth or ever told the truth was a question. If the Senate entered upon it, it could be kept busy until the end of the session.

The Senate smiled audibly at this statement of the New York Senator, but it led to a very interesting debate between Senators Hill and Allen of Nebraska, a member of the Bribery Committee. Senator Allen interrupted Senator Hill to say it was not the truthulness of the correspondents which the committee was charged to investigate; it was whether attempts had been made to bribe Senators; whether the Sugar Trust had made large political contributions for the purpose of influencing legislation, and whether Senators had been speculating in sugar stocks. He asked Senator Hill if he contended that the Senate had the right to investigate the charge that Senators had speculated in sugar stocks.

"Not exactly." replied Senator Hill, "but, I have grave doubts if a Senator should come before a committee and refuse to answer questions relating to onthe decisions of the courts are against it."

"Does the Senator believe a Senator could invest in sugar stock without it."

"Does the Senator believe a Senator could invest in sugar stock without that investment influencing his vote?" inquired Senator Allen.

"The Senator confounds the legal question," replied Senator Hill, "with the question of propriety. A Senator who speculates in sugar stock violates no lew."

" interrupted Senator Allen, "it "But," Interrupted Senator Allen, "it would not be more proper for a Senator to invest money in any enterprise to be affected by his vote than it would be for a judge on the bench to reader a decision in a case in which he was interested. This question of public morality goes to the foundation of the integrity of the government."

"A Senator has a legal right to do what is not prohibited."

"A legal," returns Senator Allen,
"but no moral right."

"One question at a time," said Senator Hill. "He would have as much right as a Senator, who, being an owner of sliver mining property, would vote on the silver question. If, pending action on the sugar schedule, a Senator should speculate in sugar, it might be an act of impropriety, but it would not constitute a crime. If the committee desired to get the facts why did they not call the Senators whose names had been connected with these charges instead of prosecuting newspaper men, who had no personal knowledge and whose information was obtained from confidential sources."

"But," interjected Allen, "if the questions asked the newspaper men were irrelevant, they should be exempted from testifying."

were wanted.
"That is just about what we want," said Senator Gray.

"Call the Senators," replied Senator Hill impulsively, "that is the best

Senator Hill declared that if a news-Senator Hill declared that if a newspaper man had made a statement reflecting on his honor of integrity and should go before a committee and testify that he had no personal knowledge of the truth of the charge, he (Hill) should insist on being the next witness. "As long as you have entered upon this field of inquiry, the whole of it should be exposed. I have appealed from the decisions for certain reasons. First, the newspaper men are from my State; second, I desire to present my views; third, I believe the Senate was entering upon ground, it ought not to tread upon and that no good could come from the prosecution of the newspaper men, for I deny the right of the Vice-President to certify those facts to the District Attorney under the statutes withoput affirmative action by the Senate has no right to go further than it has gone."

Then, after some wrangling between Senator Harris and Senator Hill, during which the interchange of courtesies was quite acrimonious, and after an ineffectual effort on Senator Hill's part to introduce a resolution declaring the questions asked the newspaper men, in which they were to be held in contempt, were not pertinent, and that the facts should not be certified to the District Attorney, Senator Harris moved to table the appeal, and it was carried without division.

Senator Hill then offered another resolution, to the effect that certifications of the recalcitrancy should not be made to the District Attorney until the Senate had taken further action. Senator Harris objected, when Senator Hill said he had no objection to the resolution going over. The Vice-President said: "It will go over," but |Senator Harris insisted it could not go over, because it had not yet been introduced, and could not be, but did not alter the ruling.

An Oleaginous Boom for the City of Bay'n Climate.

The Arrested Midwinter Fair Quard-A Con ductor Killed by a Tramp-The Second Murphy's Stage-robber

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN DIEGO, May 29.—There is no doubt that the Santa Fe Railroad Company is interested in the scheme to establish a steamship line between Vladi-vostock and this port. This is substantially proven by information gained to-day from Gen. Thomas S. Sedgwick the civil engineer. He informed an Associated Press re ceived aletter from a gentleman con nected with the Santa Fe Company asking for technical and complete infor-mation concerning San Diego Harbor As Gen. Sedgwick was at that time and is yet, the harbor engineer, he was eminenly fitted to give the desired information. His report was full and exhaustive, as would naturally be made by an engineer under the o'roumstances. Incidentally, the representative of the company requested Gen. Sedgwick to keep the matter a secret, and the request, was compiled with until today, when the publicity that has been given the proposed steamship line through interviews with Count Teleky convinced him that the long confidence reposed in him would not be violated by imparting the information he possessed on the

Gen. Sedgwick states that coincident with the request for information about the harbor he received a letter from an engineer connected with the Land Department of the Santa Fe, who was formerly in the general's employ, giving further information, touching upon the company's desire to obtain facts concerning the harbor. This friend wrote that he had learned certain facts, which greatly concerned San Diego. This cerning the harbor. This friend wrote that he had learned certain facts, which greatly concerned San Diego. This was nothing more or less than representatives of the Santa Fe Company, the Standard Oil Company and the Russian Oil Company had just held a conference in Chicago with Ivan Gavetsky, representing the Amoor Navigation Company of Viadivostock, for the purpose of organizinz a steamship line between that Russian port and San Diego. That was about the extent of the information given in the letter; but it is enough in the light of facts which have subsequently developed to give a solid foundation to all that Count Teleky has said. It is a well-known fact that the Standard Oil Company, not a great while ago, formed a combination with the Russian Oil Company for the purpose of controlling the world's supply of petroleum. It is probable that it is the plan of the two great companies to have the Western part of the United States supplied from the Russian wells, an undertaking that would in reality be more economical than the present method of transporting oil across the continent from Pennsylvania and Ohlo.

Associated Press Leaser-sure Services.

LONDON, May 29.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Baroness Roquez, the mother of Mrs. Maybrick, now undergoing a sentence of imprisonment for life, upon conviction of having poisoned fire husband, has sent a letter to the newspapers, accompanied by a pamphlet, which is said to give the latest evidence collected in favor of the prisoner. The Baroness asks for the assistance of the press in behalf of Mrs. Maybrick. The Baroness says she understands the refusal of the Home Office to reopen the Maybrick case is due to the fact that the officers are in possession of secret adverse evidence, but she adds she is certain that if she was informed of the nature of this evidence she would be able to refute it. Baroness Roquez says that she is confident that her daughter could give her much assistance if she was allowed to converse freely with the prisoner. This private evidence, however, is denied her.

The pamphet contains an affidavit, dated February 9, 1894, setting forth that the prescription which the Baroness found in a Bible formerly possessed by the late James Maybrick, which prescription and the same maybrick, which prescription the chemist of the Avenue Delayau, Paris, in 1878. The Baroness explained that she now remembers that Maybrick obtained this prescription when he suffered from a face eruption.

Deputy Hestach went to the house, broke in the cabin door and stepped inside. He discovered the woman lying on a pile of damp rags in the corner. She was almost naked and the rags on which she lay were damp, where the water had soaked through the bottom of the boat. Hestach procured help and had the woman carried from the cabin. She was hurried to the hospital and was too weak upon arriving to permit a thorough examination. The condition of her body was beyond description. To all appearances the woman was black when she entered the hospital, not having washed for a long time. An application of water and soap resulted in showing that, her original color was white, but the filth had so worked into her skin that it was impossible to get it all out. The woman became insane two years ago. During her illness she has never once had the benefit of a doctor's attention. She was put into the cabin about six months ago and remained there through the winter. MEMORIAL DAY.

Again has dawned for us the political Sabbath of the nation—the day on which we should step aside from the pursuits of business and of pleasure, turning our thoughts reverently backward to the past, allow our hearts to be thrilled and our gratitude kindled by the memory of the noble deeds and immeasurable sacrifices which today the nation commemorates as it stands by the graves of our country's heroes-the defenders of humanity, of the sacred rights of men, of sovereign citizenship, human progress and universal broth

The country was at peace. Prosperity crowned every section of our united domain. Business was active, and everyhere the field of labor was open to industry. The school, the church and the printing press had been planted land. The resources of the country were rapidly developed field of our liberties was a broad continent, and civilization was steadily shing its way from ocean to ocean blotting out the wilderness, and planting everywhere the happy homes of free and prosperous people. Our consti-tutional government, the best that the world has ever seen, was the heritage bequeathed a great people by the reve ution of 1776, when the heroic souls of that period secured our successful sev from the mother country, and established here a nation founded upon the unity of States.

But into the midst of this universal progress and peace came in 1861 the of hostile cannon, fired by a treasonable mob at the walls of S The friends of secession had but object in view, that of the establishment of an aristocratic Southern Confederacy, based upon class superiority, with slavery as its chief corner-One by one the cotton States from the Union, under the false pretex of "Northern aggression upon Southern rights," and suddenly the nation awoke to find itself in the throes of the greatest civil war known to human history, with human free dom trembling in the balance. Then it was that our loyal-hearted sprang to arms. From every walk in life, from every field of industry, from st every loyal home in the land battle. We had been a peaceful people, but with the first echo from the of traitors we became an armed nation, and in every loyal citizen's breast was found beating a warrior's heart.

We do not need to recount here the story of the long and bitter strife which deluged the land with blood and planted upon our soil three hundred thousand graves. It is a story that Freedom will not permit to finish. But it is fitting that with each annual return of this day we recall what we owe to the brave men who so unhesitatingly went forth to do battle for home and country and human freedom These soldiers who died we cannot honor by these observances, for they were honor's self, but we can honor the principles for which they fought, and the flag for which they died. Had they faltered, the hopes of Freedom would have perished and the darkness of bycenturies would have enveloped oppressed and enthralled every soldiers were not men b war, but they were the sons of freewhom a century of free govern ment had made lovers of liberty, and who were willing to die that liberty night not perish. They were young men, largely, who filled the ranks of our loyal armies. Men with unfur-rowed cheeks, with the fire of youth in their eyes, and its bounding hopes filling their hearts. Life was all bethem, and it was very sweet, with pleasures and ambitions, its high and its unfulfilled dreams. But ms and its untuillied dreams. But bey did not falter. All these, and more, vey laid upon the altar of their coun-ry. Life was not counted too dear sacrifice for them to offer for human freedom. It was not a mere sentiment that actuated them, but it was the principle which makes men and heroes, and which is the foundation of free government and of all progress. Fully interpreted its meaning is this: Let us equities are perverted, and it becomes of all that fairs of the government.

The observance of this day set apart to the memory of our dead soldiers is an expression of the conviction that the men who fought to preserve the Union were eternally right, while those and unalterably wrong. And this conour children and our children's chilwe cherish no animosity toward our late foes; and while we have given to them again places of high trust in the government of the nation, we should, with the graves of three hundred thousand heroes in our midst, who lie dead

"Lie dead for you and me, Good friend, for you and me." never lose sight of the wide distinction between treason and loyalty. The difference between the two is infinite, and there are not words strong enough in human speech to bring them into harmony. The one means life to the nation, the other its death. The one is fragrant with sacrifice, with hopes perpetually blossoming with grandeur of human greatness and godlike achievement; the other is dark with the gloom of chaos and the tread of the race downward to slavery and oppression. And today, as we stand by the graves of our nation's martyrs, it is fitting that we pledge ourselves anew to the defense of the principles for which they died.

We are threatened with danger carcely less appalling than those which confronted us in the days of the civil war. Law is defied and angry mobs are resorting to the murderous weapon and the deadly bomb to compel acquiescence to their demands. Marching armies, under lawless and flery leaders, are resorting to unlawful legislation in their favor. The South is dominant in controlling much of our national legislation, and it is doing it through mer who were the active aiders or abbettors of treason, and the voices which speak to us from Freedom's three hu thousand graves bid us to stand fast, to be true to the principles for which they died. They beseech us also not to forget the sacrifices which wrought and the lives which they gave this nation might live; they be seech us to so act that the hopes of Freedom may not perish from the earth.

THE INSURRECTION IN COLORADO

To all intents and purposes a condition of civil war exists in the State of Colorado. A large body of armed men, unauthorized by the law, unrecognized by the Federal or State constitutions, has taken possession of cerain private property, and assumes control it absolutely, in defiance alike t the civil authorities and the rights of private ownership. nen have usurped the functions of the constituted officers of the law. have set up their own police authority They have built "forts" and breastworks and barricades upon the very ground re they a legal and equitable point of view, trespassers and interlopers. They have confiscated the property of non-combatants, and have even presumed to place the lives, to say nothing of the rights and liberties, of peaceful citizens at their sufferance.

If this is not rebellion and a state of war, what is it? If the men who have done these things have not thereby placed themselves in the rela-tion toward society of outlaws and guerrillas, what in the name of law and common sense is their attitude to-

Suppose the position of the chief parties to the controversy were re-versed. Suppose—if such a thing can be conceived—that the mineowners had taken possession of property belonging to the strikers, had intrenched themselves behind breastworks, had defied the authorities to dislodge them, and had threatened with death all who opposed them in their murderous lawlessness! Wher in all the land could be found a voice to defend them in such a course? Where could be found a person with judgment so warped, with conscience so blunted, as to feel or express a particle of sympathy for their course? These questions answer themselves. If the situation were reversed, as above suggested, a torrent of unanimous conmnation would be poured out against the mine-owners, in the name of out-raged law, in the name of a trampled Constitution, in the name of crucified liberty, and in the name of commo lecency. the reversal of the situation would in nowise reverse or modify the principle at issue. Before the lawtheoretically at least—all men are equal. The law should be no respecter of persons. It should know no rich nor poor; no high nor low; no bond nor free. When the law is administered by men instead of by dem-agogues and time-servers it is thus impartial. But when its administration is intrusted to the hands of pol troos and charlatans, its simple equities are perverted, and it become name of capital. We have had altogether too much of namby-pambyis of sympathy for this class or that cause, irrespective of the legal aspects of the case. The mandates of the law must be enforced impartially. Rioting must be suppressed and rioters punished, no matter upon whose head the this republic is to be governed by law, respect for law must be enforced with an inflexible, no less than with an impartial hand. In this course, and in this course alone, lies the path of law is not to prevail this republic will speedily lapse into a barbarous feudalism, where might will be the controlling power, where right will be wholly disregarded and where liberty will be a forgotten name. Should this time ever come, the very men who now are foremost in defying the laws and trampling upon guaranteed constitutional liberties will be the first to suffer. The ills which now are al st wholly imaginary will become both real and terrible. They will be reduced to a serfdom from which they cannot escape, and from whose mandates there will be no appeal.

On this memorable day-the noble anniversary set apart by the nation to commemorate the deeds of a great host of patriots, who died for sake of liberty, law and country-it is meet that we utter these sentiments and again proclaim these principles. Gov. Waite is under a crushing

CONCERNING SOME ANCIENT HISTORY.

Some of the carping and anxious nachine spokesmen for Judge McKinley, who resent the outspoken course of The Times in presuming to disput his fitness to sit on the Supreme Bench of California, hypocritically profess to believe that we are moved by private resentment or some other improper motive. They refer frequently (with out giving any specifications) to the fact that McKinley was once arrayed against The Times in a lawsuit, and in sist that the fact is the cause of our opposition to his candidacy.

These lame and impotent critics of ours do not see the weakness of their position. They take care not to mention the outcome of the lawsuit which they prate about. We can appeal to record, which they dare That suit, its conduct and its outcome were no credit to the plaintiff or his attorneys who assailed The Times in the courts for daring to print the truth about a scoundrel.

"Smoothy"-to wit, one Boyce. nalodorous memory-was that plaintiff, and J. W. McKinley and Bill Willams, then partners, were his attornevs.

He was known to be a thief and a scoundrel by his attorneys when they took his case; and on the trial he was proved to be all that and more.

Of course the beaten gang, plaintiff attorneys, sympathizers and all, have bitter against The Times ever since. They set out to crush an honest and fearless newspaper, failed in the attempt-hence their venom. The people understand it. All this is ancient history; the justification for reproducing it now is the sniveling and carping which has been renewed against The Times for presuming to criticise the capabilities for Supreme Court honors of a man who happened to be among the beaten attorneys of a beaten scoundrel, a thorough-faced villain, and a notoriously dangerous character, of whom this community is now happily rid. The outcome of that trial having been a conspicuous victory for The Times, it has been able for six years past to look with indifference, not t say contempt, upon the railing and writhing of the beaten crowd, the principal of which long since fled the country. We have no occasion to pursue any one of them—not even J. W. Mc-Kinley, Esq.—for the part he took in an indefensible prosecution, which ended in dishonorable defeat. But when it comes to the selection of a Supreme Court Justice, we beg to be excused from supporting a man of in sufficient caliber, learning, experience and dignity to adorn that high place and whose campaigning methods are wholly indefensible in a judicial offi-

INDUSTRIAL DESPOTISM.

The announcement has been made on behalf of the Colorado strikers that they were not only willing but anxious to have their differences with the mineowners submitted to arbitration. An incident reported by telegraph—a report, in point of fact; given out by the strikers themselves for publication shows how insincere were their proessions in this regard.

A conversation was had by telephone etween Calderwood, president of the Miners' Union, and J. J. Haggerman speaking for the mine-owners. To questions asked by Haggerman as to wha conditions the strikers would upon, in the event of arbitration, Cald erwood replied that all union men must be employed; that if any non-union men were allowed to go to work, they must agree to join the union within one month. To Haggerman's manly re ply that the mine-owners would never onsent to an arrangement which would deprive an American citizen of the right to earn his living without joining the union, Calderwood replied: "There is no use talking. These are our conditions, and it is that or nothing!"

In other words, the strikers consent to "arbitration" only on condition that their employers would concede in advance all the points in dis-

This is indeed a new dispensation in the science of arbitration. Quite naturally Mr. Haggerman declined to enter burden of responsibility for the troubles in that unhappy State. His 'negotiations' where the issue was thus predetermined.

Meanwhile, the industrial despotism in Colorado continues. The strikers have control of the situation. Behind their barricades they can make a desperate resistance against the efforts of the authorities to dislodge them. They have placed magazines of dynamite in the mining shafts, and have laid wires from the same so that they can be exoloded at a moment's notice. They have inaugurated a veritable reign of nan who opposes them is safe.

of mob violence to continue?

If Colorado had a Governor worthy the name, or fit to be an American citizen, there would be a speedy end this disorder. But as Colorado no such Governor the issue is doubtful. Before the end is reached, the soil may be drenched in blood, shed in mere wantonness, without justification or excuse.

Anarchistic governors are expensive uxuries, as some States of this Union are learning to their sorrow.

According to the statements of one of the newspaper correspondents who have been under examination at the the Senate Investigating hands of Committee, Grover's jaw has apparently gotten him into trouble again It is stated that the man of the White House made one of a yachting party, of which Havemeyer, the head of the Sugar Trust, was another; this presum-ably when the President was having his jaw treated last fall; that it became snown to those of the party that Queen Lil was to be restored, and, inferen ially, that Hawaiian sugar would not trouble home producers. | [AMUSEMENT RECORD.] AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATER.-A fine audience—one that was brilliant and representative—greeted Stuart Robson at the Los Angeles last night, and showered the players with applause and of laughter. Mr. Robson is the same charming comedian, whose unctuous and characteristic playing has made mirth for the public of America for many years, and time does not stale his surpassing humor. Buckthorne's comedy "Leap Year" is a tax on an udience, for it keeps it guessing at the plot to such an extent that it is conducive to brain fag and paresis; but for all that it contains sparkling lines, and has an air of old-fashionedness that is delightful.

The people of the play were as fol-gness

Vineam Waiter. W. H. Ellwood Digness ... J. J. Farrell John Thong ... J. J. Sepre Zahner Miss Sarah O'Leary... Mrs. Robson Mrs. Flowerby... Grace Franklyn Lynch Mrs. Crisp ... Gabrielle McKean Miss Desperate ... Camille Campbell Susan ... Amy Stuart As has already been said, Mr. Robson's playing is full of charm, of deliciousness and of originality. He is like no other player, but is simply Stuart Robson, an actor who has the faculty of making a most prosaic phrase intensely funny, and has a manner that is copied from nobody.

His company supports him in a most thorough and intelligent way. Mrs. Robson, in the breezy role of Sarah O'Leary, with a brogue that is a work of art, fairly divides the honors with her accomplished husband. She has chic and spirit, and carries out the character with credit and distinction. In the role of Mrs. Flowerby, the young widow who has to marry on time or lose her fortune, Grace Franklyn Lynch scored a decided hit. She plays with a decided air of ease, refinement and delicacy; has a handsome presence, and, in the beautiful dressings of the part, made a charming stage picture. Her enunciation is one of the heauties of her playing, which is in every way pleasing to a degree. Gabrielle McKean was excellent as Mrs. Crisp, and, in fact, the entire company is deserving of high praise.

Tonight Mr. Robson will appear as Bertle, the Lamb, in Bronson Howard's great comedy of Wall street, "The Henrietta." This afternoon "Leap Year" will be given its last presentation during the engagement.

After a mock conference, at which Dr. J. W. Campbell, as acting bishop, after much discussion reappointed every preacher to his present parish, the clerical party formed a procession and passed across the street to the residence of Presiding Elder Caswell, where well-spread tables welcomed them. For two hours they feasted on the proverbial turkey and a tempting menu, while they discussed the lights and shades of ministerial life. Caswell pinks adorned each plate and Caswell jokes made merry laughter.

After refreshments the glests lingered long in the dining-room of Mr. Welch admiring his fine collection of art photographs from Italy and eajoying social conversation. They dispersed at last with regrets and a hearty vote of thanks to host and hostess for a right royal time.

Among the guests were Revs. G. W. White, J. W. Campbell, W. A. Knighten, C. C. McLean, P. F. Bressee, G. L. Cole, Williams, F. M. Larkin and wives, Rev. A. B. Morrison and daughter, Revs. T. V. THE OCEAN STILL ROLLS

Ocean of People Against the Doors of the Great Sale.

The Fever of Buying Jewelry Which Has Seized the People of Los Angeles and the Reason Given Therefor.

Crowds continue to press about the entrance to all that remains of the largest ewelry establishment that was ever in Los Angeles. Their presence indicates a nost potent present cause, drawing people into these knots, seeking an opportunity to spend their money. It is that the remnant of the great stock of Mr. German's store is moving with an utterly unprecedented speed. Auctioneer T. E. Dawson, to whom the stock has been turned over, does not pause at trifles. Goods are practically being distributed among the crowd. A bid of a few pennies is taken as a pretext to bestow upon the bidder some valuable article.

The goods have got to go. Mr. Gernan's health is very poor. He has just rallied from an illness which has confined him to his room for two weeks, and he is anxious that the stock should be out. He wants, too, the public to have the benefit of the last article of stock. That is his purpose in the present sales at seemingly absurd figures. The stock is select. The goods are all fine-watches, precious stones, plate, jewelry. You can buy these goods, feeling you have always two or three times your money in the article. Sale occurs at 11 s.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. No. 320 South Spring street.

The principal event about the City Hall yesterday was the meeting of the Police Commission, at which meeting five of the officers were asked to resign and a number of communication regarding the granting or revocation of liquor licenses were presented. The expected hearing of some sensational evidence in reference to fire department matters was postponed till next week. tendance. Commissioners Arnold and Bradish came in a few minutes later. A petition from Boyle Heights citizens, as heretofore published, asking that no saloon license be granted for any place on Boyle Heights, was re-ceived, and was laid over for one ceived, and was laid over for one week.

Commissioner Weldon stated that J. Marietich had asked permission to withdraw his application for a saloon license at No. 2134 East First street, and moved that the permission to withdraw be granted as asked for. The motion prevalled.

The Chief reported through Secretary Moffatt on the applications of Morgan & Fisher for a transfer of saloon license at No. 1444 San Fernando street, from J. H. Watson; of Andrew Martin, for a transfer of saloon license at No. 101 East Requena street, from Emil Waldeck, and of George W. Laggadda, for a transfer of saloon license at the northwest corner of Seventh street and Maple avenue, from George Waudscher. These applications were granted.

On report on the Chief an applicawaudscher. These applications were granted.

On report of the Chief an application of Charley J. Shang for a transfer of saloon license at No. 416 North Main street, from Ed J. McCormick was granted, and the restaurant liquor license for the same place was revoked.
A lengthy communication from Joseph Schurtz, proprietor of the Palace saloon, was presented. It stated that he had been law-abiding, and it was a great injustice to take his license away. He was heard in behalf of his petition. He said he had never vicilated the law. The trouble was that he had been too strict in trying to keep an orderly place. He does not permit patrons to treat himself or his employees, and he never tolerates dice or card games in his place. If an officer had seen patrons at the place on Sunday, drinking liquors without the bona fide meal accompaniment, it must have been after the plates had been removed. If people with their families came in late at night to get meals he could not drive them out just because it happened to be midnight before they left. He had been in the city for about eight years, and has within that time transacted $250,000 worth of business here.
A communication was presented from time transacted $250,000 worth of business here.

A communication was presented from F. Kerkow, in which he claimed he had been law-abiding and asked the commission to reconsider its action in revoking his license. He was afterward heard by the board. He stated he had never sold whisky on Sunday since the Sunday-law went into effect. He had never sold beer or wine at such times except with meals. He had sometimes sold beer on Sundays in "steins" (mugs) when the patrons preferred it. He never kept beer on draught on Sunday. The beer sold at such times in "steins" would be emptied into them from bottles and then served to patrons.

Commissioner Bosbyshell presented some resolutions of indorsement, which resolutions, he said, he believed properly belonged to the commission. The resolutions commended the action of the commission in revoking the licenses of places conducted in violation of the law. They were from the Park Congregational Church, the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Willard D. Ball of places conducted in violation of the law. They were from the Park Congregational Church, the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Willard D. Ball and from B. J. Baldridge, representing the United Presbyterian Church.

Commissioner Bradish presented a similar indorsement which had been received from the Immanuel Presbyterian Church. The communications were filed.

The following communication was received from J. Marletich:

"I made application for a saloon license for the premises at First and Chicago streets two weeks ago. I had purchased this property through Judge R. H. F. Variel, who told me it was a shame not to have a saloon on Boyle Heights and that I had a right to have a saloon there on my property. I now learn that although I had lived in Los Angeles for twenty years. I am a foreigner, so Judge Variel says, and that he opposed my getting a saloon license at a public meeting on Boyle Heights on Sunday evening and, finding that I have been deceived, I ask leave to withdraw my application."

The communication was filed.

An application of Ernest Koenig for a saloon license at No. 501 West Sixth street was referred to the Chief.

An application was presented from McMoroney & Haefner for a transfer of saloon license from No. 400 South Spring street to No. 623 South Spring street.

An attorney for the applicants was heard. He stated the removal is desired

Spring street to No. 623 South Spring street.

An attorney for the applicants was heard. He stated the removal is desired to be made by the first of the month and asked that under the circumstances the application be granted without the usual delay of one week in which time to give the Chief a chance to report. Commissioner Bosbyshell said that to immediately grant the transfer might prove a sort of entering wedge. He moved that the board take the usual course and refer the application to the Chief for investigation. The motion prevailed.

A communication purporting to be from John Grove was stated by the clerk to have been received by mail and was read, It was all typewritten, including the signature and was as follows:

"I notice in the report of the police concerning the violations of the Sunday law, that the police failed to report several violators. If the policeman on the Spring street beat was not instructed to close his eyes when he passed the corner of Spring and Second streets, he could have easily detected an open violation of the law, and if he stayed there a few minutes he could have recognized two policemen and a member of your commission emerge from the basement and it is safe to say that they were not down there for the purpose of securing a glass of water. I write this for on Sunday, and he keeps a very nice restaurant.

The commission then went into executive session, and, as has become customary with that body, politely refused to admit the press reporters. After having been in the Mayor's private office for nearly half, an jour, the board came out and Commissioner Weldon moved that, by reason of the reports of superior officers, Officer P. J. O'Reagan be requested to resign, his resignation to take effect May 31. The motion was adopted, only the Mayor voting against it.

It was then moved, for the same reason, that Officers Cadman, Segger and Mersch, be requested to resign, their resignations to take effect at the same time. This motion prevailed unanimously.

Commissioner Weldon then moved that, for the same reason, officer Valencia be requested to resign, the same to take effect May 31. This motion prevailed, the Mayor being the only one to vote in the contrary.

Commissioners Bradish and Arnold respectively, presented the names of William Gillis and F. C. Longstreet for appointment as special officers, to serve on probation, and they were so appointed.

Commissioners Bradish, Weldon and appointed.

Commissioners Bradish, Weldon and Mayor Rowan nominated, respectively, for appointments on the regular force, Joseph Miller, James W. Bell and Ed Smith. The nominations were ap-Smith. The nominations were approved, and, as each of the three men named has formerly been examined as to qualifications for service, they were by vote appointed, without the formality of waiting for them to be again

The settlement of the bill of exceptions in the Arthur D. Andrews case was deferred until Thursday next, and, upon motion of the District Attorney, the case against Honore Duserre, charged with destroying government property, was postponed until December 4 next.

United States Attorney Denis moved the court for a commutation of the United States Attorney Denis moved the court for a commutation of the sentence passed upon John Denny, the accomplice of Ike T. Bullis, the counterfetter, stating that Denny was merely the tool of his confederate in crime. He also stated that Denny had conlessed his share of the crime to Detective Insley, and that officer, upon investigating his record, found that this was his first offense. The court, however, denied the motion, and Denny will, therefore, be compelled to serve his sentence of five years at Folsom.

HOW THE PUBLIC IS IMPOSED UPON.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

For the Sake of Profit They Will Sacrifice Principle, Health, Etc.

Unscrupulous dealers are trying to sell ordinary Glauber Salt or a mixture of Seldlitz Powder as "Artificial Carlsbad Salt," "Sprudel Salt," "German Salt," or "Improved Carlsbad Salt," and under other similar names. The natural remedies of Carlsbad cannot be imitated. "What nature makes, man cannot improve." Artificial made wines will never replace the natural juice of the grapes. Netther can the natural waters of Carls-replace the natural place of the grapes. Netther can the natural waters of Carlsbad, nor the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt be replaced by the cheap substitutes offered to a guileless public for the sake of the larger profit made thereon, by these unscrupilous dealers.

No one would buy artificial wines know ingly. Why buy the imitations of Carls-bad products, when your health is at stake?

bad products, when your health is at stake?

The Carlsbad Sprudel Waters are a specific for all diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and have been used with great benefit by hundreds and thousands of people. The Carlsbad Sprudel Sait, which is evaporated from the Sprudel Water at Carlsbad, is an excellent aperient, laxative and diuretic; is an alterative and eliminative remedy, which dissolves tenacious bile, allays irritation, and removes obstruction by adding nature, and not by sudden and excessive irritation, as most cathartics do. The summer months, when plenty of out-door exercise can be had, are the most desirable for the "Carlsbad Cure." Use the imported Carlsbad waters, or if it is not convenient to use the waters, or when more decided laxative effect is desired, use the Carlsbad Sprudel Sait.

Insist upon the genuine, which is imported direct from Carlsbad, and must have the signature of Eisner & Mendelson Co., sole agents for the United States, Nos. 162 and 184 Franklin street, New York, on every bottle.

Talk Will Not Make Good Goods, but

Good Goods Will Make Talk!

This is indeed a true saying. Our business thus far this season has demonstrated the fact that the superior quality of goods being offered by us at the most reasonable figures is what the public ask for, and that our efforts in this direction have been fully appreciated by the liberal patronage bestowed on us.

Some people are constantly thinking about and talking of hard times; but when they enter our store, examine our stock and ask prices, they forget that there ever was such a thing as a scarcity of money.

Our great aim is to give you elothes that fit your person, at prices that fit your pocket. Our great success lies in the fact that honest prices prevail, they the lowest and the same to all.

We take advantage of this occasion to invite the members of visiting Posts to make their headquarters with us, where they will not only receive a warm welcome, but will also find a full line of Regalia, G. A. R. Suits, Hats, Buttons and Hat Cords.

PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS OF an act entitled "An Act to Provide for the Issuance and Sale of State Bonds, to Create a Fund for the Construction and Furnishing by the Board of State Harbor Commissioners of a General Ferry and Passenger Depot in the City and County of San Francisco, to Create a Sinking Fund for the Payment of Said Bonds, and Providing for the Submission of this Act to a Vote of the People," approved March 17, 1881, I shall at the state treasurer's office in the capitoi, in Sacramento city, California, on the thirteenth day of June, 1894, at 1 o'clock p.m. of said day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, and in such parcels as I may deem best, bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on January 1st and July 1st of each year. They run nineteen years and are due and payable January 1, 1912, and consist of 1000 bonds of $100 each; 500 bonds of $500 each and 250 bonds of $500 each; are dated January 1, 1893, and number from 1 to 1750, commencing with the bond of the largest denomipation. The highest bidder may take as many bonds as desired proportionally of each denomination, and if he elects to take only a part the balance will be offered in the same manner until all are disposed of. Each bidder must accompany his bid with a certified check to the extent of five per cent. of his bid as a guaranty of good faith. All bids for bonds below par value will be detached from the bonds. Right to withdraw bonds from sale reserved and by public announcement at place of sale. I may continue such sale as to the whole or any part thereof to any time and place I may select.

WASHINGTON, May 25, 1894. WASHINGTON, May 25, 1894.
Postmaster, Los Angeles, Cal.—Sir:
I am in receipt of yours of the 15th inst. requesting the appointment of additional carriers as recommended in the report submitted by Inspector Flint in February last. After carefully reading the inspector's report, and giving proper consideration to the record of your office, as it appears on file here, I have decided to grant you an allowance of five additional mounted carriers, to begin service July 1, 1894, and to be paid at the rate of $600 per annum. You are also granted an allownum. You are also granted an allow-ance of $1250 per annum to mount said carriers ($250 each,) allowed you from July 1, 1894. Very respectfully, (Signcd) FRANK H. JONES, First Assistant Postmaster-General.

Shares and Money.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The share speculation today was strong in tone, but rather dull, the volume of business being lighter than for some days past. The holiday tomorrow had pretty much to do with both advancing the tendency of prices and the general activity. The bears were constitutionally opposed to remaining short over a holiday and were the main buyers in the market to cover their short contracts, and to the short interest is due the appreciation in values. The feeling of uncertainty which fills the speculative mind on the evening of a holiday kept some purchasers out of today's market, and this tended to restrict the case. The feature of the day was the heavy demand for Chicago Gas, the buying of which is believed to have been for the same chique which has operated so successfully in Sugar, and which, it is said, has formed a bull pool in Gas. Their purchases, sent the price up sharply to '4, an advance of 28, par cent from yesterday's closing price, with only ½ per cent. reaction at the close. Sugar led the market in point of activity, fluctuating between 99½, and 101½, and closing 1 per cent. down from the highest point of the day, but 1½ per cent, higher than on yesterday. The trading in the stock was in small lots, showing that big operators were not in the market. A drive was made on Burlington and Quincy in the early dealings on rumors that the April statement would show a heavy decrease in net earnings, and the stock gave way ½ per cent, but when the statement was published and made a far different showing, the shares came into good request, and an advance of 1½ per cent, was recorded, of which ½ per cent, was published and made a far different showing, the shares came into good request, and an advance of 1½ per cent, was published and made a far different showing that the April statement would show a heavy decrease in net earnings, and the stock gave way ½ per cent, but when the statement was published and made a far different showing the share maps.)

CHICAGO, May 29.—The crop scare flattened out today and wheat followed suit, closing. 3/c lower. The market was dull within a %c range. Corn closed %c lower; oats, 3/c higher, and provisions with but little change.

Wheat was easy at the start, with opening, sales 1/c %c catching some "stop-loss" orders, some of which could not be executed at the limit given. Later the price railled 3/c, eased off again and closed steady. The heavy frosts predicted for last night failed to materialize, and this was largely responsible for the early weakness. Reports from Kansawere a little conflicting, some reporting good rains and others still dry and that frosts had done some damage to the soft wheat. There was said to be selling orders here from the Southwest, but lated that the outs. There was said to be selling orders here from the Southwest, but lated the with buying. The indifferent cables, reports of rain, combined with the fact that the "short" interest covered yesterday, ended to increase the weakness, but buying near the close caused a raily and the finish was %c above the bottom. The receipts of fresh fruit th's morning were 684 chests of strawberries, 2661 boxes of cherries, 17 boxes of pluma, 25 boxes of apples, 3 boxes of figs, 45½ chests of goaseberries, and 520 boxes of apples. The herry market was lower.

The market for butter and eggs is weak at quotations. Cheese is unchanged. The poultry market is dull with heavy stocks on the strawberries, 2569, 275 per bbl.

Flour—Net cash prices for family extras, 3.3063.40; superfine, 2.5692.75 per bbl.

Wheat—There is nothing in the immediate situation that is encouraging for holders. Shippers still keep out of the market, and matters are likely to remain adult and spiritless until exporters come again to the front. Of course there are occasional transfers, though at a low range, say, $56971/2c per cental for standard shipping quality. Moderate demand prevails for milling grades, and some little business is being constantly transacted at a range of $571.02½ per cental.

Barley—Most holders are somewhat firm in their views as to values, the asking range being 90025c per cental, as to quality. But the slightest pressure to realize at once breaks the market, and a concession of 50c per ton is quickly established. At the same time the market rapidly ralles as soon as the selling pressure is withdrawn. In brewing descriptions there is in glargely nominal. Dealers who have recently tested the situation report that Yesterday (Tuesday) the fourth convention of the Los Angeles district of the Woman's Home Missionary Society was held at Pomona, in the First Meththe Woman's Home Missionary Society was held at Pomona, in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of that city, Mrs. G. W. White, the district president, in the chair. The greeting by Mrs. A. C. Steadman of Pomona church was most cordial, and the delegates felt themselves "at home," and that a delightfully profitable day was before them, from the opening devotional service, led by Mrs. Lewis Wright, to the last number of the programme. Mrs. Pierce of Pasadena, in her earnest way, responded to the address of welcome.

The usual routine business was proceeded with, and the reading of the minutes was followed by the reports from auxiliaries, every one but three having been heard from. An especial feature of the morning programme was the reading of a paper, entitled "A Glance Over the Whole Field of Our Work," by Mrs. Mary A. Welch, and was an interesting outlook of the entire home missionary work.

Then followed a solo, "The Lord is My Shepherd," by Mrs. L. M. Hutton, A paper by Mrs. L. M. Hutton, by Mrs. R. R. Brown of Los Angeles.

A palatable lunch was served in the church pariors at the noon hour by the ladies of the Pomona church to the visiting delegates. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock the aftermoon session was opened by Mrs. M. A. Welch, who conducted the devotional A novel and interesting missionary exercises.

A novel and interesting missionary council was held, composed of Mmes. Larkin, Cumming, Coultas, and Misses Clara Swan and Vernie Kochlein, personating leaders in the industrial homes, deaconess' work, mother's jewels, homes, and the Bohem'an work in Chicago, and the work in Chinatown in Los Angeles, these ladies reading papers, piquant, pathetic and deeply interesting and profitable.

A beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. M. A. Gibson, deceased, was read by Mrs. Dr. Smith of Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. B. Abernethy of Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. B. Abernethy of Los Angeles read a paper, which was a fine review of Helen Hunt Jackson's book, "A Century of Dishonor."

A duet, "Rock of Ages," was then sang, and reports from the remaining auxiliaries followed, and Miss Clara Pitzer of Pomona gave a recitation.

Mrs. Mary F. Kline's paper on "A Typical City Auxiliary" seemed to give the palm to University Church.

Mrs. E. E. Caswell conducted the chidren's and young ladies' hour.

After the resolutions of thanks to the Pomona ladies, offered by Mrs. Northup, in the name of the convention, and a solo by Mrs. Davis, came the question box, in charge of and answered by Mrs. M. A. Welch, and the convention closed with the singing of the doxology.

avenue Extension.

The electric people have at length commenced operations on the Pasadena avenue extension, and a large force of men was at work yesterday, changing the line from single to double track between Daly street, and the bridge. Ties have been distributed along the route toward Pasadena, nearly as far as the city limits, and it really begins to look as if the connecting line between the two cities would be in operation before the summer's close.

In the meantime citizens are pondering over the probabilities of a line being built to reach the East Side Park, which is really a pretty place and a pleasant resort, but at present practically inaccessible to the large majority of people, on account of its remoteness from the street cars. In point of shade and floral magnificence there is not a park in the city to equal it, yet unless people are willing to walk upwards of half a mile through the dust or to ride in a stuffy box-car, drawn by mules, and running only once an hour each way, they cannot get close enough to it to enjoy it in the least.

Work on the Griffin avenue sewer was resumed yesterday, and will probably consume the greater part of three weeks before its completion.

Kennesaw Post, G.A.R., together with the First, Third and Ninth companies of the Boys' Brigade, will go this morning to Evergreen Cemetery to participate in the decoration of the graves in G.A.R. plot, a detail also being sent to the Catholic Cemetery to pay the proper honors over the graves of the veterans buried there. Firing squads for both parties will be furnished by the Boys' Brigade. In the afternoon the post will go over town to take part in the general parade and exercises at Simpson Tabernacle.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

An Informal Reception to Dr. Schell of A gospel meeting, followed by an informal reception to Dr. Schell of Chicago, general secretary of the Epworth League, was given by the various Epworth Leagues of the city last night at the First Methodist Episcopal Church. A large audience was present. The meeting was what is termed an old-time salvation service, much en-thusiasm being shown. The exercises opened with song service led by Hugh E. Smith, followed by prayers by Rev. Robinson. Mrs. Priest-Moffatt and Mr. E. Smith, followed by prayers by Rev. Robinson. Mrs. Priest-Moffatt and Mr. Jeffreys then sang a duett. J. W. Kemp, president of the Los Angeles district league, who presided, introduced Dr. Schell, who delivered a short address. He told of the beauty of faith and said that salvation was in the reach of every one. Every man, he declared, makes his own world. If he is mean and false, his world is mean and false, while if he is good and pure his world is high and noble. The things of God can be known only by the spirit of God.

The speaker made an earnest appeal for Chinamen and said it was a pitiful thing that these fellow-creatures here in Christian cities were left in ignorance, and so little effort was made to convert them to Christianity.

Rev. Campbell, pastor of the church, also spoke briefly. The meeting was closed with singing and prayer.

A gospel meeting will be held tonight at the First Methodist Episcopal Church under the direction of Dr. Campbell and Hugh E. Smith.

ern California athletes has at last arrived, and the many young men who have been training so faithfully for many weeks past, will end their labors in contests of speed and strength. The training of the "boys" for the Los Angeles Athletic Club race meet has commanded the attention of lovers of indoor sports for the past several weeks, and those who enter the grounds the track, and, judging from their preliminary work, some exceptionally fast time is expected of them. A number of the old favorites will also be seen in the various events, after which they will leave for San Diego.

One of the "hits" of the day will be a Chinese bicycle race, and, as considerable rivalry exists between the almond-eyed wheelmen as to who is the "champion," a race from start to finish is expected.

The running races will no doubt appease the appetite of the lover of close finishes. Howard and Ryan, in the open 100-yard race, will make as pretty a run as has ever been witnessed, on the track. The 440-yard run will be contested for by Brossmer of the Turnverein Germania, Fred L. Morrill of the Y.M.C.A., and Patterson, Ryan and Howard of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Among those entered in the 2:20 yard run are James Ryan, C. V. Howard and C. E. Patterson.

Howard is favorite in the mile open, against Patterson and Brossmer.

C. Gollmer and W. J. Bleisner of the Turnverein, M. E. Riley and E. W. Hoppersted are entered for the running high and broad jump.

The Republican caucuses held ughout this city last night were a matter of surprise in many respects, unexpected happened in several of the wards-notably in the Second which was harmonious to a degree. It was expected that a hot fight was in prospect, but everything passed off The delegation is practically solid for Judge Clark and nearly evenly divided on Congress. SECOND WARD.

The Second-ward caucus was called to order in Temperance Temple at 8 p.m. by A. A. Bayley. Charles McFarland was chosen permanent chairman and J. M. Davies, secretary.

After the completion of the organization the caucus formed by precinct the county committeeman in each precinct acting as chairman. The balloting was brisk and in the Fourtieth and Forty-fifth precincts the contest was spirited, but harmonious. The result by precincts was ratified by the caucus as a whole, and will be the regulagities to be voted for at the primary election on Saturday, June 2. regular ticket to be voted for at the primary election on Saturday, June 2. It was a meeting of representative Third Ward Republicans that gathered in Music Hall at 8 o'clock and was promptly called to order by Temporary Chairman Munson. There were many Third Ward citizens present who never before attended a caucus, called out on this occasion by the popular movement having for its aim the purification of politics, and early in the evening it became evident that the struggle would be between the hill section and the flats—the former being the one hitherto scarcely represented in caucuses.

would be between the fill section and the flats—the former being the one hitherto scarcely represented in caucuses.

With the nominations for permanent chairman the meeting became lively. E. A. Meserve and George H. Stewart were nominated, and there being no second to the nomination of the latter it was proposed to make a choice between the two by ballot. Meantime it had been discovered that no temporary secretary had been elected, and the oversight was speedily rectified by electing A. E. Bagley to the position. Three tellers, Fred L. Alles, E. C. Hines and W. R. Bacon, were named by Chairman Munson to take the ballots for permanent, chairman, and the voters filed around the room to drop their ballots into the hat. Some repeating was detected in this performance, but no attention was paid to the fact. The balloting resulted in giving Mr. Meserve 118 votes, Mr. Stewart 80 and H. Q. Blaisdell 2. Chairman Meserve, upon taking the chair, made a speech of thanks for the honor, asserting that the present would be the first legal caucus ever held in the Third Ward as the better class of voters had come out for a commendable purpose and would make their presence felt, and would make their presence felt, and would make the Third Ward stand at the head of respectable wards.

When the chair announced that the business before the meeting was the nomination of delegates to be voted for at the primary election, half a dozen men jumped to their feet demanding to heard. The chair recognized H. Glaze, who stated that at a meeting of representative Republicans a few days ago to consider the question of honest caucuses, it was resolved to present to the voters of the ward a list of names of men who were not pledged to any candidate, and not one of them politicians. He read the forty-one names and nominated the entire ticket.

This brought Henry Carter to his feet, and he decared that in Mr.

into a general tirade on the question, Mr. Carter was called to order by the chair, who asked the speaker to nominate his ticket, if he had one. Mr. Carter did not have one. Maj. W. C. Furrey demanded that Mr. Carter be permitted to finish his speech and the chair acquiesced, whereupon the philliptic against an alleged attempt to fix the caucus was continued.

George H. Stewart made a motion to quickly decide the status of printed ballots.
H. P. Platt moved that all the names on the printed ballots be placed in nomination.

Fred L. Alles then moved that, as all the tickets were printed, the nominations should be declared closed. This put the people in good humor and relieved the strain.

Dr. D. Granville MacGowan then pre-and relieved the strain.

Dr. D. Granville MacGowan then presented a written ticket, bearing fortyone names, and placed the lot in nomination. Another printed ticket was handed by J. J. Gosper to Lester
Osborne to be read to the meeting.

W. R. Bacon moved to proceed to the election of delegates by ballot, the printed and written tickets to be on an equal footing. This was adopted, and on motion a recess of ten minutes was declared to enable voters to prepare their tickets.

The ten minutes stretched to twenty before the house was again called to order, and J. J. Gosper moved to dispense with the Great Register, except in cases where a woter should be challenged.

On motion of Aaron Smith, the chair appointed three tellers, Mr. Smith, George H. Stewart and H. P. Platt, and two challengers, H. Glaze and by. Ainsworth, to conduct the balloting. Two extra tellers, G. F. Conant and Henry Carter, were also named to count ballots as fast as they were cast. The voting was done by the simple file march around the room, passing the tellers and challengers at the stage. Not a voter was challenged, though several were suspected by others than the challengers, and, in a few cases, repeating was detected.
There was some good-natured bantering on the subject, but no votes were rejected.

their choice for delegates in an orderly and quiet manner.

The meeting place selected was the hall at the corner of Seventeenth street and Grand avenue, and the room was well-filled at 8 o'clock. When all the seats had been taken, Bradner W. Lee called the caucus to order and announced that it would be necessary to first nominate a chairman. E. W. Jones was unanimously chosen as presiding officer and Leslie Hewitt, A.W. P. Kinney and Walter Marchant were selected to act as secretaries. Then the fun commenced. No one seemed to know just where to begin, but finally a nomination was made and then several were put in rapidly. There being an evident lack of system about this plan, to remedy the defect it was suggested that the general caucus divide into precinct caucuses in order that each district might select their own plan, to remedy the defect it was suggested that the general caucus divide into precinct caucuses in order that each district might select, their own representatives. The suggestion was at once taken up and acted upon, and in a few moments the voters from the several precincts has eggregated themselves into their respective corners and the making of nominations was once more begun. The recommendation of the County Central Committee that Great Registers be used was wholly disregarded, but, as the voters were all well-known no injurious results were traceable to the omission. The sudden move from a general into precinct caucus might have disturbed some of the plans made, for a moment, but if it did, the fact was not evidenced. Each precinct was apportioned six delegates, while a motion to make the chairman a delegate-at-large was carried, thus completing the number allowed the ward.

A canvass of the votes cast showed that the following had received the

After the caucus had completed its work a motion to adjourn was made, but before it was seconded a voter present inappropriately brought up the matter of choice of a Congressional matter of choice of a Congressional candidate, and he was squelched in consequence, the chairman announcing as he retired, that the subject was out of order.

Then the motion to adjourn was carried with a rush.

Then the motion to adjourn was carried with a rush.

FIFTH WARD.

The Republicans of the Fifth Ward assembled at the hall in Washington Gardens and were called to order soon after 8 o'clock by George Alexander. Charles Silent was asked to preside, but declined and ex-Mayor H. T. Hazard was made chairman. W. T. Hazard was made chairman. W. T. S. Hammond was named as secretary. Chairman Hazard announced that it was understood the candidates of the Fifth Ward are Seaman, for State superintendent of Public Instruction, Judge McKinley for the Supremebench, and himself for Congress. A ticket, he said, had been selected with a view to having it representative of the three gentlemen named. H then submitted, as such ticket, a list containing the following names:

J. M. Stewart, Robert Hale, Maj. C. J. Fallon, J. L. Murphey, W. T. S. Hammond, G. Holterhoff, J. D. Stine, T. J. Carron, G. A. Chappell, R. C. Shaw, W. A. Barker, J. A. Brown, George H. Wood, Benjamin Gardner and R. L. Horton.

J. D. Stine asked permission to withdraw his name in favor of that of J. C. Shumway, which permission was granted.

Chairman Hazard maintained the ticket had been presented feitly and thought the caucus might as well actiourn.

Chairman Hazard maintained the ticket had been presented fairly and, after he had spoken a recess for five minutes was announced.

Upon coming to order again nominations for names to be presented at the primary election were called for, and some thirty or forty names were announced. Some of those whose names were thus placed before the caucus declined the proposed honer and their names were accordingly withdrawn.

Another recess was then taken.
Order being again called for J. S.
Slauson moved to place all the names of those nominated on a ticket to be voted on at the primary election.
William Williams objected to putting up a ticket that would not support the three candidates of the ward.
Mr. Slauson said every man has some interest besides the election of the three condidates named. He felt he had a right to say, as far as his vote went, which candidate should be elected for each of the positions to be filled. He did not intend to surrender his prerogative in that direction.
Mr. Williams said it was not wished to gag anybody. The commitment of the delegates to the three candidates in the ward need not effect thir votes for other candidates.
Mr. Brotherton said he is a Republican and has been for years, but he did not propose to wear any man's collar. If he went to the convention he would go as the personal friend of each of the three candidates in the ward, but not bound to them.
Charles Silent argued that it was contrary to the spirit of the Postal Primary Plan for a pet of names to be selected by a few instead of by the voters as a whole. To present a ticket, as had just been done, was in the nature of forcing it upon the caucus. He wanted to make his own selections, but had not been able to agree with his friends upon a complete list of names for a ticket.

J. L. Murphey, Esq., said, as he understood it, the people are the boss and not the delegates. If sent as a delegate to the convention he (Murphey) would support Mr. Hazard. The delegate goes to a convention to act as the agent of the people, and not to vote entirely according to his own preferences. It could be called a collar, if so wished, but that was what he thought about it.

Mr. Slauson inquired of Mr. Murphey what binding force a resolution of this caucus would have on the courty convention.

In reply Mr. Murphey said he believed the three candidates from this ward should receive the entire support of the ward. The Postal ward should receive the entire support of the ward. The Postal Primary Plan is one for giving the people—that is, all the voters—a chance to express their preferences out of a list of candidates which they have had a proper chance to consider. Mr. Hazard had been honest with the caucus by placing the list of names before it at first.

Mr. Hazard said that from the ticket he had first in contemplation he struck the names of some of his friends, who were not the friends of some of the other candidates. The present system of caucuses and primaries, he said, is one which is in the greatest need of purification. The Postal Primary Plan is one which contemplates that the names of the candidates shall be placed before the voters in such a form that they shall have both the "time and coportunity to know for whom and of whom they are voting. On the same principle he (Hazard) had placed a ticket before the caucus the first thing he did in it. He challenged Al Lindley to show the ticket he had prepared to vote and to prove he had not written thereon a list of names of men whom he intended to be used to beat Hazard.

Al Lindley, recently in the employ of Mackey& Young, the Whittier Reform to beat Hazard.

Al Lindley, recently in the employ of Mackey& Young, the Whittier Reform School contractors, and whose residence in the Fifth Ward is at least doubtful, replied, with some heat, to the insinuations of Mr. Hazard, saying they were false.

hey were false. William Williams said he had heard Al Lindley state a few days since that if the caucus sent to the convention a if the caucus sent to the convention a set of delegates which should support Henry T. Hazard he (Lindley) would hold Judge McKinley personally responsible for it. He (Williams) wanted to have a set of delegates sent from the ward, which delegates would be representative of the voters. He wanted no sneak work. If any of the Lindley men wanted to go to the convention let them state they were opposed to the nomination of Henry T. Hazard—and let them come forward and do it like men. If they were to do so, however, he would guarantee they would never get to the convention—not by a thousand miles.

Mr. Webb raised the point that the nomination of candidates should come from the people. It seemed to him the way things were going that the purpose was to have the nominees favorable to all or none of the three candidates of the ward.

A motion that it be the sense of the caucus that the delegates named by it be instructed to, support the three candidates of the ward who had been previously named, was adopted by almost a unanimous vote.

Charles Silent thereupons withdrew his name from the list of those nominated outside of the ticket presented by Mr. Hazard.

As a substitute for Mr. Slauson's motion to present all the nominations to the primary election, to be voted on by the voters then, Mr. Williams moved to proceed to select fifteen names to be so presented.

At this time Mr. Williams took the chair and thereupon Charles Silent moved to adjourn.

The motion failed to carry and Mr. Murphey said he understood at least one man had voted on the question under a misapprehension. He therefore thought another vote should be taken. The vote was taken again and those in favor of proceeding to select fifteen nominees for delegates were requested to file past the chairman's desk. The voters kept filing past until forty-two had been counted and then those opposed were requested to do the same.

SIXTH WARD.

SIXTH WARD. The Sixth Ward Republicans cau cused at Dalton's Hall, corner of Wash ington street and Central avenue, last evening, with Edward Leake in the chair and F. B. Williams acting as secretary. The affair passed off very quietly, the following ticket being chosen by acclamation. The attend-ance was about the same as in previous years.

The ticket by precincts follows:
Twenty-first Precinct—E. H. Dalton,
J. D. Calhoun, E. P. Sutherland, G. W.

Hawkins.
Twenty-second Precinct—C. T. Paul,
R. B. Lovall, E. N. Mathis, E. F. Burgoyne, G. A. Howard, M. House.
Twenty-third Precinct—D. R. Rozell,
H. L. Tubbs, B. F. Kierulff, Dr. T.
Dodge, Dr. G. A. Millard, E. G. Jones,
J. W. Aldrich, Joseph Baxter.
SEVENTH WARD.

Unwonted harmony prevailed at the Seventh Ward caucus in the McLain Seventh Ward caucus in the McLain & Lehman building, No. 254 South Main street, which was attended by fully two hundred representative voters of all classes, and, much to the surprise of many of those present, the business of the meeting was concluded almost before they realized that it had commenced. In fact, after the motion to adjourn had been put, one youthful voter arose, much to the amusement of the crowd, and asked the chairman

what the meeting was for, and if it was a caucus, what it had done.

The reason for the remarkable celerity with which the caucus was dispatched, was that the real caucus had been held quietly in Operahouse Hall last Saturday night, and consequently it only remained last might to formally adopt the ticket prepared by a committee of forteen, appointed at that meeting was called to order promptly at 8 o'clock by C. G. Knox, Esq., one of the members of the Executive Committee of the Seventh Ward Club, and no time was wasted in organizing. Upon motion of J. E. Cusick, it was unanimously resolved to be the sense of the meeting that Mr. Knox be called upon to preside as chairman of the caucus, and J. L. Moore was unanimously elected secretary.

Chairman Knox then beliefly sketched.

Mr. Knox be called upon to preside as chairman of the caucus, and J. L. Moore was unanimously elected secretary.

Chairman Knox then briefly sketched the history of the Seventh Ward Club, and announced that, deeming it advisable to take some preliminary steps toward the caucus, the club had held a public meeting at Operahouse Hall on Saturday evening last.

This meeting had not been publicly announced, for the reasons—firstly, because there being a number of candidates in the field, the probabilities were that had they known of such a meeting they would have swarmed to buttonhole the members of the club, and interrupted what was merely intended to be an informal gathering; secondly, because had it been advertised the press would certainly have been represented there, and the object of the meeting defeated on account of its work being brought to the attention of the whole city.

All Republicans in the ward, had, however, been quietly invited, and about seventy-five responded and were present at the meeting.

It was finally concluded at that meeting, in order to avoid the loss of time entailed by nominating a ticket at the caucus, that it was advisable to appoint a committee to sit in the interval between said meeting and the holding of the caucus, that it was advisable to appoint a committee to sit in the seven precincts in the ward, and was instructed to appoint thirty-five delegates, according to the pro rata apportioned two years ago, at the election for Thomas Bard as Presidential elector, the appointments being ratified by the committee as a whole.

A second committee of two was also appointed for the purpose of determinations.

A second committee of two was also appointed for the purpose of determining the vote of the colored population of the ward.

"You may think," said Mr. Knox, in conclusion, "that this is a cut and dried affair, but you must bear in mind that it is only a suggestion. It you choose to accept it, well and good. If not, vote it down. Remember, that in a Republican caucus, the voice of the majority always rules."

Upon motion of John Lovell the report of the Committee of Fourteen referred to was read by the secretary, as follows:

"Your committee begs leave to re-

"Precinct 20—D. Tremble, F. Perry, W. Rogers, C. C. Briggs, P. Reel. "Respectfully submitted, (Signed.) "G. A. CUTLER, Pres. "J. L. MOORE, Sec."

Upon motion the report was unanimously received and adopted, and, before many of those present realized the situation the caucus had adjourned, leaving the delegates to settle the question as to who should pay for the printing of the tickets among themselves. EIGHTH WARD.

EIGHTH WARD. The Eighth Ward caucus was held

The Eighth Ward caucus was held strictly in accordance with the programme as outlined by the County Committee, Edward Booth was elected chairman and George Becke secretary. About seventy-five were present.

C. P. Webber, the gambler, who endeavored to vote in the County Committee on a proxy from San Vicente, was elected in the Eleventh Precinct. Webber lives in Santa Monica, residing there with his family, opposite the Arcadia Hotel, making the trip to the seaside daily. NINTH WARD.

The prospects of a fight over the two tickets known to be in the field drew a large crowd to Korbel Hall, where the caucus for the Ninth Ward was held. Fully 500 people were present, including a large number of ladies, who completely filled the gallery. Those who expected an exciting meeting were, however, disappointed, for aside from a little preliminary skirmishing, in which Judge R. H. F. Variel was severely scored by members of the Arnold faction for coming out with a published ticket in advance of the caucus, everything passed off quietly and with dispatch. An effort was made to profibit the using of printed or prepared tickets, but as each side had its slips in readiness this attempt was soon abandoned. The voting was conducted in a systematic and orderly manner, and resulted in the complete "snowing under" of the Variel faction, which polled but 54 votes as against 237 piled up by the other side.

Following is the ticket which received the majority and which was declared the choice of the caucus:

S. C. Hubbell, George L. Arnold, F. Bates, N. E. Davison, C. F. Young, D. C. Barber, George Reinchild, A. H. Sanborn, R. E. Drummond, F. Bernal, C. C. McComas, C. G. Spreng, Frank Nye, C. H. Anderson, Frank Cummings, W. B. Robb, John Wilson, George W. Simonton.

The tickets headed by Judge Variel, called the "Cittzens' Published Ticket," and which received only 54 votes, was composed of the following-named residents of the ward:

R. H. F. Variel, Octavius Morran, Samuel Rees, Charles McLagan, J. C. Murray, M. C. Neuner, George Ferguson, Al Workman, G. W. Simonton, Joseph Orvis, J. A. Bernal, Frank Cummings, William T. Ward, W. I. Foley, W. O. Burr, E. H. Sanderson, J. L. Ballard.

what he intends doing this time. First, he will bring the Los Angeles delegation solid and use it where it will benefit the party most, as represented by the Hon. H. L., for the leading places on the ticket. Then, as the contest for Judge of the Supreme Court is between Judge Clark and the other Judge who thus far has been little heard of here who thus far has been little heard of here by name, (I mean the tall fellow who was president of the Young Men's Republican Club and then elected Judge,) their fight will be bitter, and both will be sidetracked. The Hon. H. L. intends to give that place to Williams of Ventura, and thus secure the Congressional nomination for McLachlan of Pasadena."

Political Points.

The editor of the Farm and Labor Review is somewhat worked up over the report that a People's party daily paper is soon to be published, and thinks only two essentials are lacking to make it a success, towit: Brains and money. The said editor is also disappointed over the defeat of Utley and the nomination of Bowman, which has manifested itself in a vigorous roar.

Joe Brown, the San Bernardino banker, is making a canvass for the State Board of Equalization, and thinks he can help his cause by keeping his delegation in a position for "swapping." Supervisor Victor of San Bernardino is reported as scouting the idea of the auburn-haired Skipo Craig capturing the State Printer's billet. That place, he says, will go to Sacramento.

Ed Niles says he wishes to disclaim any ambition to pose as a boss. He says he knows when he has enough, and just now is putting in his time sharpening up his scalping-knife with a view to operating on the Lindley cranium.

Congressman Bowers of the

Congressman Bowers of the Seventh District will not have a walk-over for a renomination. There is said to be considerable dormant opposition to him in the northern part of his district, which would be formidable if it is aroused. San Bernardino is not altogether pleased with Bowers, and further north the dissatisfaction is greater.

greater. Sheriff Cline denies that he has anything in common with Lindley, or that smooth individual is "helping" in his canvass for a renomination. He says that Lindley is making Billy Ham nel's fight. at the instance of George Gard, who is Hammel's brother-in-law.

At Pomons.

POMONA, May 29.—(Special Dispatch.) The caucuses at the precincts were well attended. Much interest and good feeling were displayed. A resolution to the effect that no delegate would give his proxy only to his delegation or a member thereof was carried in the different precincts. The nominees to be voted for in the primaries on Saturday, and the chairmen and secretaries selected in each tonight are as follows:

First Precinct — Franklin Blades, chairman; J. E. Packard, secretary. Delegates: E. C. Kimball, J. T. Brady, C. E. White, H. T. Finney and J. E. Packard.

Second Precinct—Cyrus Burdick, chairman; Terrell B. Thomas, secretary. Delegates: Frank L. Palmer, Allen P. Nichols, F. K. Adams, Frank Raynes, Howard A. Broughton W. A. Lewis and C. G. Cezar.

Third Precinct—J. W. Strongfield, chairman; H. G. Tinsley, secretary. Delegates: S. M. Haskell, S. I. Ford, Andrew Osgoodby and J. L. McComas. Fourth Precinct—O. J. Brown, chairman; A. G. Weiss, secretary. Delegates: O. J. Brown, Oliver Youngs, A. G. Weiss, J. Y. McLintock, D. E. McCormick and S. H. Marple.

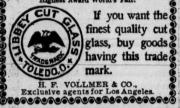

At Redondo.

The following delegates to the Republican County Convention were elected at Redondo last evening: L. R. Winans, S. P. Rees, Esty Brunson, W. N. Terry, George Foyer, E. J. Parker, A. V. Trudell, S. Longstreet.

The following delegates were chosen from the Rosedale Precinct: D. F. Dellmire, D. D. Fulton, Thomas Boyd, A. G. McGinis, W. F. McMullen.

This evening the Royal Bakery Restau-tant, at No. 118 South Spring street, will serve a fine turkey dinner, with different entrees, for 35 cents. Orchestra plays luring dinner hours.

The estimates given by the engineer of the Pine Vailey Company were found to be correct. Abundance of running water was found.

Republican primaries were held on Saturday, and delegates elected to the county-convention, which will meet on Tuesday to elect delegates to the State and Congressional conventions. The delegates elected on Saturday are understood to be practically unanimous for W. W. Bowers for Congress, and a solid Bowers delegation will be sent from this county.

The event of the week will be the wheelmen's meet at the Sweetwater track on the 30th. The city is rapidly filling up with bicyclists, all of whom are in fraptures over the splendid track. On Monday morning W. A. Burke of Los Angeles broke the Coast record, riding a quarter mile in 0.28, flat, with a flying start. T. Q. Hall, also of Los Angeles, rode with him, expecting to make a record himself, but was beaten. This run was not official, but—created quite as much interest as if it had been. Medias will be given during the meet for every record broken. A quartette of the fastest men entered for the Sweetwater races arrived at noon. F. C. Chandler and C. T. ANAHEIM BREVITIES.

The city water mains are being extended from the corner of Los Angeles street and Broadway east 300 feet; also from the Del Campo Hotel to Fred Christ's new residence, 290 feet.

Max Nebelung informs the Times correspondent that his pampas plum crop promises to be fully as large as it was last year, although the market the coming season is not so promising. Mr. Nebelung has ten acres of pampas plumes, and last year he harvested about two hundred thousand of the beautiful plumes, which he shipped to Europe for a market.

The orange crop is about all gone, there being yet not more than two of three car loads more to dispose of by the local fruit association. The crop for the season for Anaheim proper has been about fifty carloads. The fruit was good, and on an average, fair prices were received for it.

ORANGE. May 29.—(Special Correspondence). The deciduous fruit-growers in Orange and vicinity met Saturday aftermoon in the office of the water company for the purpose of discussing the advisability of organizing an association, through which to market the deciduous fruit of the community. President J. A. Scarritt of the Santiago Orange-growers' Association was elected chairman and O. P. Koerting chosen secretary. After the object of the meeting had been stated and some discussion indulged in as to the method of organization, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, that we recognize the wisdom and necessity of the co-operation of the growers in marketing their fruit and other fruit."
The methods of the Santa Clara Growers' Association were then discussed, which resulted in the appointment of three, consisting of Messrs. C. P. Mait and M. Manley, to draft general plans for the organization of the deciduous fruit-growers of this community.

A committee of three was then apdedddous fruit-growers of this community.

A committee of three was then appointed to consult with the fruit-growers and to prevail upon them to turn out en masse at a meeting to be held at this week at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of effecting an organization. It was also decided to invite all raisin and wainuting rowers upon the present at the meeting. Messrs. Wiley flarris, W. H. McPherson and Charles Bush were appointed as this committee. The meeting then adjourned to meet Saturday of this week, at which time the committees appointed are expected to report.

S. A. V. I. CO. MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the S.A.V.I. Co. was held Saturday in the office of the secretary, with Messrs. Armor, Watson, Mallory and Newell present. The reports of the secretary and superintendent of ditches were received and accepted.

H. K. Small appeared before the board and asked a rebate on the Olive Milling Company's rent to cover the time the water had been out of the ditch since October 21, 1888, and also for the time that the mill was being constructed. The matter was referred to the board as a committee of the whole, in connection with the superintendent, to investigate and report at the next meeting.

The petition of E. C. Conger et al., that has been before the board for so long a time, was referred to a committee to report at the next meeting.

Owing to the probable scarcity of water in the near future the following restrictions are placed upon run No. 3: "Water for run No. 3 is limited to thirty minutes to each share to the amount of stock owned by the applicant or controlled by annual lease in connection with the land covered by the stock. Day water, 40 cents, and night water 20 cents per hour." Secretary Goodrich asked for a two weeks' leave of absence and the same was granted.

POMONA,

Meeting of the City Council—Pield Day Programme.

POMONA, May 29. — (Special Correspondence.) The City Council met in its hall at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, present, Trustees Gallup, Graber, City Attorney Bell, Clerk Garthside and Marshal Lorbeer.

The Executive Committee of the "Fourth of July" Committee appeared before it in behalf of many merchants, citizens and the band, asking that the band-stand matter be resurrected from its pigeon-holed state of rest and favorably considered, if compatible with the views of the Council, but, after a hearing and short discussion of the proposition, it was permitted to still remain in statu quo for the present, at least, notwith-standing the utterances of two or three that the contractors who had put in the lowest bid affirmed that if the job en or completed in good workmanlike style, according to the pian and specifications, the city would not be required to pay a cent, yet the board feared that something in this respect must be wrogn, owing to the specific the bids.

Upon a statement from A. J. Stewart and his naming the sureties upon his bond (A. H. Turtis and A. C. Bryan) the contract between him and the city in regard to furnishing three teams and three men—one for day and two for night work—for watering the streets, was duly signed, and the order given for the night service to begin at once.

The bond of Frank W. Montague in the sum of $5000, with A. Laventhal and Zobelein of Los Angeles as sureties, was approved, and his liquor license ordered issued upon the payment of the amount of same for one year or the proper prorata thereof. His application for the reappointment of Fred Schumaker as his bartender was read and the request granted.

The request of the City Clerk that he be permitted to purchase about fifty pigeon-hole paper boxes for filing away public documents in the vault, was granted.

The request of the City Clerk that he be permitted to purchase about fifty another establishing street grades, etc. had not been and could not be published until Officer Slanker will start for him to-morrow. Street Superintendent Petty will put up about one hundred and ten feet more, there being already some forty feet of hitching racks (so as to prevent hitching horses to the trees) for use on the "Fourth," as instructed by the Board of Trustees, sometime during this week. The City Attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance requiring the num-bering of all houses throughout the en-tire city limits.

Adjourned until 7:30 o'clock Tuesday graw up an ordinance requiring the numbering of all houses throughout the entire city limits.

Adjourned until 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 5.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

Absent-minded Young Man in Trouble-Notes and Personals.

SANTA BARBARA, May 29. — (Special Correspondence.) Harold C. E. Spence, a young Englishman who has been a prominent figure in this city for some prominent figure in this city for some time, having been connected with the Santa Barbara Music Company, and implicated in various lawsuits here, has added to his notoriety by leaving the city very suddenly, and not taking the trouble to settle his accounts, which are many. The Santa Barbara Clothing Company, to which he was indebted in the sum of $25, placed their account in the hands of the officers, who had the young man arrested at Fresno on his way to San Francisco. He settled that account, however, and was allowed to proceed on his journey. This morning another complaint was sworn out stains him by the shoe firm of Burson & Lamb. It is said that he is to sail tomorrow from San Francisco with an expedition to South Africa.

A number of trotting horses arrived at the race track yesterday from Hueneme, among which are Wildwood, Seaside, Annie S., a half sister to H. M. Stanley, and two more by Dexter Prince. These horses are under the care of J. H. Cody and will remain here for the season. The managers of the track, Messrts, Goulding and Clancy, state that they expect several more trainers next week, each with a number of fine horses. The remains of Hiram Everett, who recently died at Olympia, Wash, were brought to his home for interment in this city by the steamer Eureka, last night, but was quelled by the officers before anything serious developed. It is supposed to have originated over a gambling table.

A very pleasant social dance was given at Miramar last night, and was attended by several of the townstolk besides the guests. It was given in honor of Mrs. J. Doulton.

The driver of the tally-ho coach from Lds Angeles, which brought the Bradbury and Banning party to this city, met with an accident on the way, as a result of which he has since been confined to his room. The party at present are guests at La Patera.

Last February Mrs. Eddy of Carpinteria was granted a divorce from her husband. Now Mr. Eddy will petition to have the decree modified, giving him the custody of the minor child, which the cou time, having been connected with th Santa Barbara Music Company, and im

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

The Movement for Better Roads and the Proposed $750,000 Bond Issue.

POMONA, May 27.—(To the Editor of The Times.) The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for its action in inaugurating a movement for securing better country roads. Preliminary to taking any definite action in the matter information is needed, and I am surprised that so little is being said, when we consider the importance of the subject.

consider the importance of the subject.

That we very much need better roads; that no other improvement, for the same amount of money expended, so greatly enhances values and adds to the beauty of a locality, and that the issuance of bonds is the better way to secure the needed funds, if the amount is large and the public generally to be benefited, probably a majority will agree. But as to the questions which mostly concern us—the kind of roads to be made, the material to be used, the manner of construction, the comparative cost and value and as to where and what roads to be built—there is room for difference of opinion.

Our mesa soils, as a rule, furnish excellent material for roads, and, if properly made and cared for, will give us good roads at small cost. Such roads can be well made at a cost of $150 to $200, or less, per mile; and, if well made, the annual cost of keeping in repair will be a mere trifle. Where the soil contains too much sand or too much clay, other material is needed. The suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce was for macadamized roads, which would cost heavily per mile. There are localities where the soil is not suitable for road-making, but in some or most of these localities probably material from gravel pits or mesa soils may be found best available, cost considered. It is a question if it would be wise to expend so much on a few roads, when many are equally needed.

It has been stated that we expend about $90,000 annually on our country roads and that the money is not well spent. If this be true would it not be well for us to learn better how to make and care for roads before we expend $750,000 in one lump? It would seem that what is first needed in this line is county, and perhaps district road engineers, men who thoroughly know how to make and care for roads. But the most interesting question is as to where the money shall be expended. Fifteen years ago almost the entire traffic and travel of the county, Orange county included, went over the wagon roads to and from Los Angeles. Now that is all changed. Most of the traffic and travel go by rail. The man who drives even ten miles to Los Angeles along a line of railway is the exception. Besides, the day of the electric line has come and another five years will again revolutionize the mode of travel, and then, good-by wagon road along electric lines. Again, towns and cities are rapidly building up over the county, each becoming more and more a business center and absorbing the business of the country—not to the larger city at a distance from it. The resolutions of the country—not to the larger city at a distance from it. The resolutions of the convention macadam road at that point is not pressing.

As a rule, the correct method of raising funds for road building is to have the interested property-owners furnish it. This is our plan in cities, and in all thickly-settled localities it would be the best plan in the country. Our present road law, which provides a general road fund, to be used for the work at large, under the direction of one official for a large district, is not wise or just, and, no matter how efficient or impartial a supervisor may be, can never be satisfactory. A State law, providing for road work to be done by property-owners in the country, the same as is now done in cities, would, to a large extent, solve the would, to a large extent, solve the road problem.

Tennessee Republicans.

LOS ANGELES, May 27, 1894.—(To the Editor of The Times.) I am a Southern Republican and I certainly indorse your editorial in regard to the South having so many votes in the national convention. In my State, the grand old State of Tennessee, there are about 130,000 Republican voters, but we can't carry the State, and I speak the sentiment of a large majority when I say we should not have as many votes as other States that elect the President. Let the states that elect Republican Presidents nominate them and not the bourbon States of the South. The Republicans of the South will do all they can for any candidate that is nominated. Tennessee is for that prince of statesmen, Gov. William McKinley, but will vote for Thomas B. Reed or Gen. Hawley or any good, sound, protection candidate that is nominated. We will do all we can, but we do not expect to carry the State, as the Democrats have the machinery all in their own hands. We may vote, but they do the counting. East Tennessee goes 30,000 Republican majority, while Middle and Western Tennessee vote 40,000 Democratic majority.

I indorse the bold stand The Times

Tennessee vote 40,000 Democratic majority,

I indorse the bold stand The Times has taken in regard to pure primaries and elections, and for sending tricksters to the rear, as the Republicans must put up clean candidates all over the nation. We have started out in the South that way. In the First District of Tennessee W. C. Anderson will be elected; in the Second, Hon. H. R. Gibson. They have been nominated and are sure of election. There is much for the Republican party to do, as the country is almost ruined by Democratic misrule. I am very respectfully,

Dr. Wong's SANITARIUM!

Four years ago my daughter, Virginia Bell, was treated by Dr. Wong for what play sicians called hip disease, and had pronounced incurable after treating her for eight years. Dr. Wong's diagnosis was that she was afflicted with one of thirteen forms of cancer. His medicine effected a permanent cure in seven months' time. Two years ago my grandson became blind in one eye, Dr. Wong restored his sight in three weeks time.
